	The UBC Bursary Program guidelines determine student unmet financial need through UBC's Common Assessment Mechanism, which is based on StudentAid BC policies. All students must submit a bursary application by the deadline.
Before you Apply
	Eligibility
Bursary Cycle	Not all students who receive Canadian government student loans are eligible for UBC Bursary Program funding. The University will determine the amount of money you may be eligible to receive. Bursaries are based on financial need and are normally awarded only after a student has exhausted all other sources of funding including Canada Student Loans and Provincial Assistance. You must notify us immediately of any changes to your financial situation even after you have submitted your bursary application.
	To apply for a bursary, you must:
	1. Be a Canadian citizen, permanent resident or have refugee status
	2. Be attending full-time and receiving full-time Canadian government student loans for the same study period you are applying for bursary support
	3. Have received confirmation of enrolment for your Canadian government student loan by the bursary deadline
	4. Submit a bursary application that is concurrent with the loan period and study period by the deadline
	5. Have an assessed unmet financial need using the provincial need assessment calculation based on StudentAid BC policies regarding income and assets
	6. Be enrolled in an eligible program studying in a full-time course load
	» Okanagan Campus Course Load Guide
	Wancouver Campus Course Load Guide
	Programs that don't qualify for bursary funding
	UBC Co-op terms. Bursary funding awarded to students enrolling in co-op term(s) will be adjusted. You may be required to repay a portion of any bursary money received, if co-op is added aft bursary disbursement.
	» Non-Degree Studies programs. Certificate, Diploma, Unclassified, Visiting, Access Studies, and Qualifying Year.

7. After completing the review of the Welcome and Before you Apply sections, you will select the Bursary Cycle to start your Bursary application.

8. After selecting the Bursary Cycle to start your application, the left navigation menu will display all the sections of the Bursary application.
